SOMETHING WRONG

A traveller who is now in the city called at the Interior Department at Ottawa for information about the North West and was told among other things that the land around Calgary was worthless for anything but stock raising and that even with irrigation it could never be expected to produce anything but a poor quality of grass. This startling "information" was probably the old-woman's tale of a musty under-stripper in the department, who, like too many of the officials at Ottawa, knows as much about Alberta as he does about Timbuctoo. The Calgary district has been proved by the seasons of '81, '85, '86 and '88 to be capable of producing as fine crops of wheat and other grains as any district in Western Canada. During the four years above mentioned nature was generous in her distribution of moisture and the result was magnificent crops, proving that with a sufficient supply of water, which is now assured with or without irrigation, the soil of this district is astonishingly fertile and well adapted to growing anything that can be raised in the West.

Where the Interior Department official got his wonderful information we do not know. That he gave it to the traveller in question we do know, and it is only one more of many evidences of the fact that the average Ottawa official knows more about nothing about the North West. And yet he is allowed to manage, or mismanage, many of our domestic affairs. The lesson of it all is that Alberta should claim provincial government and the right of appointing her own servants to administer her own public business.

SASKATCHEWAN VALLEY

Abundance of Rain Assures Big Crops—An Excellent Outlook.

CLOVER HAT, June 17.—(Special.) For the last three days this country has had continuous rain of any amount much needed. With the abundant rain crops in this section of the Saskatchewan valley and the surrounding country are fully assured of any rate so far and rain is concerned. The growth, notwithstanding the present want of rain, is most remarkable. In a field of Wm. Wolford, which I called upon, I saw barley heading out and by actual measurement some of his wheat measures 44 inches. In his garden peas are in blossom and peck over an inch long and very green. Everywhere one goes through this country there is marked progress. The whole appearance has greatly changed during the past ten years. Before the old wet winter which was so easily followed by now getting to be a thing of the past, the valley was put up and the regular rain, however, which has been driving and graded, in taking the place of the old trail, much to the delight of the traveller who was accustomed to following the original trail.

The farmers are in most cases past planting the government seed and it is only a matter of a short time till many of them who are standing still waiting to see the Government seed, "concerns," as one man remarked, will put out will be well known. There are larger acreages of grain now than ever before and it is foreseen that conditions should happen the grain output of this section will far exceed anything ever produced in these parts. The price of wheat and the impetus of the Kootenay trade give each acreable that every farmer would ever have seen here.

CALGARY'S JUBILEE

TWO DAYS RACING AT ELBOW PARK TRACK

Was the Leading Event—The Town Crowded With Visitors—Indians—The Decorations—A Royal Salute

The first day's Jubilee racing, being held at the Elbow Park track, Calgary, was the leading event of the week. It was a very fine crowd of visitors, and the race was very well attended. The town was crowded with visitors, and the race was very well attended. The town was crowded with visitors, and the race was very well attended.

The first race was the bicycle event in which there were three entries, Bert, McCarly, and Fred. McCarly, they got away well together. McCarly won the lead, however, and was followed up pretty close by Bert, who passed him about the three-quarter mile, while McCarly kept up pretty close, keeping well within himself, while the other two showed signs of getting pretty well beaten. In the last 20 yards, he overhauled McCarly and putting on an extra burst of energy, he passed him, winning the race, and the handsome cup presented by the society.

A hat of the two-year old trot half mile two in three was well collected, the entries being Red Pat, by Hodge, of the leading trainer, St. James, George Lewis and Calgary, by Will, by Hodge, and Red Pat, by Will, by Hodge, and Red Pat, by Will, by Hodge.

In the three-eighths penny race, George did not start, and the race was won by Crickley, a fine May maid.

The second race of the day in which the chief attraction was a five, was the stake race for colts, which was started much to the delight of the spectators. The starter allowed almost of others had been nominated, and of the starters three were sired by Sisk. Given one by Kingford, one by Sisk, and one by Sisk.

The owners of Eagle Plume and Jay, and two other horses, were also present. In the first race, the horses were well represented by their gets in the race. Red Pat, the best, being the good old race mare Sisk and half sister to the phenomenal May W. was a hot favourite and never did favourite more. She was the best, being the good old race mare Sisk and half sister to the phenomenal May W. was a hot favourite and never did favourite more.

At this juncture of affairs a heavy shower of rain came on, and the day was closed.

SECOND DAY

The second day's race opened with a bicycle handicap race of 2½ miles. McCarly and Kainey started on the track and Mack Ross 250 yards in advance. The race was won by McCarly.

Next came a heat of the 250 foot or there abouts, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The third race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The fourth race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The fifth race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The sixth race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The seventh race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The eighth race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The ninth race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

The tenth race was a five, in which there were three entries, McCarly, Cherry, and Little Alf. Cherry won the race, and the race was won by Cherry.

RED DEER SPORT

To the Editor of THE HERALD.

Sir.—I noticed that the Red Deer correspondent spoke of them having a game of cricket on the Queen's birthday, but he must have forgot that the Red Deer football team went out to Springvale that evening, and played a match with the cowboy football team, which ended in two goals to none in favour of Springvale. The match that Red Deer played against Lacrosse, Red Deer had four Springvale players and three in the game against Lacrosse. Springvale football grounds are situated five miles southeast of Red Deer. Yours truly,

A SUBSCRIBER

Mistakes Worth Correcting

To labour when you are not in a fit condition to do so. To go to bed at midnight and rise at day-break and imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained. To imagine that if a little work or exercise is good, violent or prolonged exercise is better. To conclude that the smallest room in the house is large enough to sleep in. To eat as though you only had a minute to finish your meal, in or to after you are satiated, merely to satisfy the taste. To believe that children can do as much work as grown people, and the more they study the more they learn. To imagine that whatever remedy causes one to feel immediately better (as alcoholic stimulants) is good for the system without regard to the after effects. To take off your proper clothing out of season because you have become heated. The neglecting to take Simpson's Kidney Pills when your liver and kidneys are in bad working order. When your tongue is coated and you have a bad taste in the mouth in the morning, when your head aches and you are irritable. When you are flushed and feverish and do not enjoy your meals. When constipation troubles you and you feel sleepy and lazy from morning until night. When the least thing troubles you and you are disgusted with the world generally. Under all these conditions you make a great mistake if you do not use
